Should the US government deport undocumented immigrants (estimated at 11 million or more)?

If you support a path to citizenship, what needs to be included?

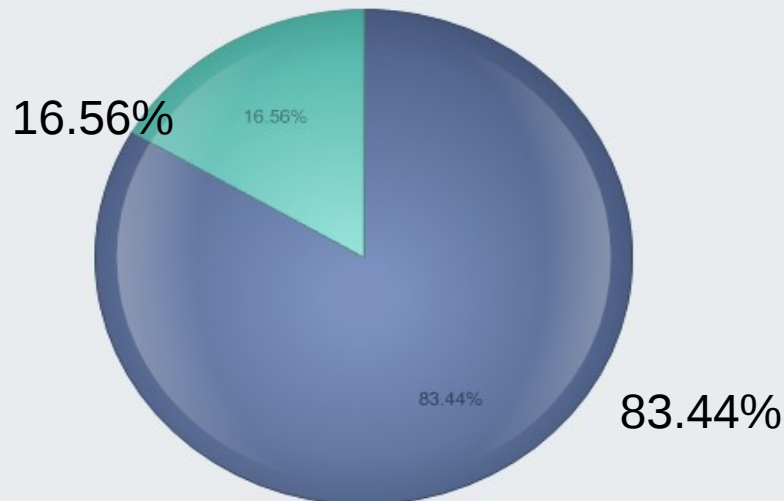

Many believe that undocumented immigrants come to the US to find employment opportunities. Employment eligibility verification is the law. E-Verify is an Internet-based system that compares information from an employee's I-9 Employment Eligibility Verification to data from U.S. Department of Homeland Security and Social Security Administration records to confirm employment eligibility. E-Verify is currently voluntary for Employers. Regarding Employer responsibilities as to documenting legal immigration status for employment, do you support REQUIRING the use of an internet based eligibility verification system?

Should otherwise qualified students who are children of undocumented immigrants and thereby here through no doing of their own, be able to attend post-secondary state related schools?

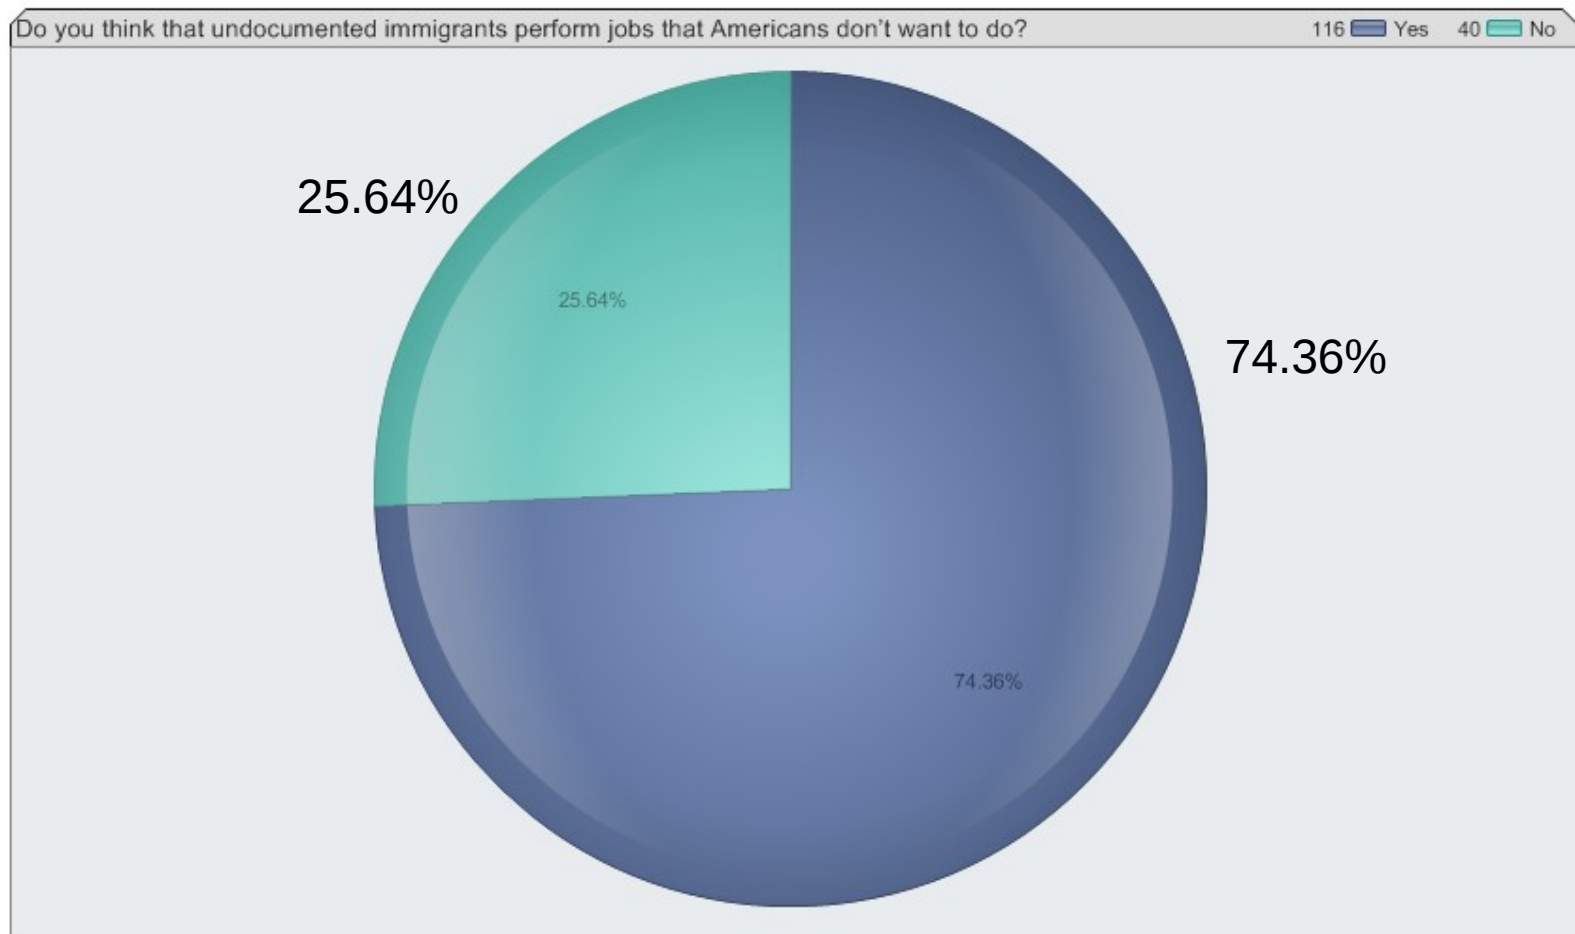

If you answered yes in the above question, should they be able to attend at the PA residence rate?

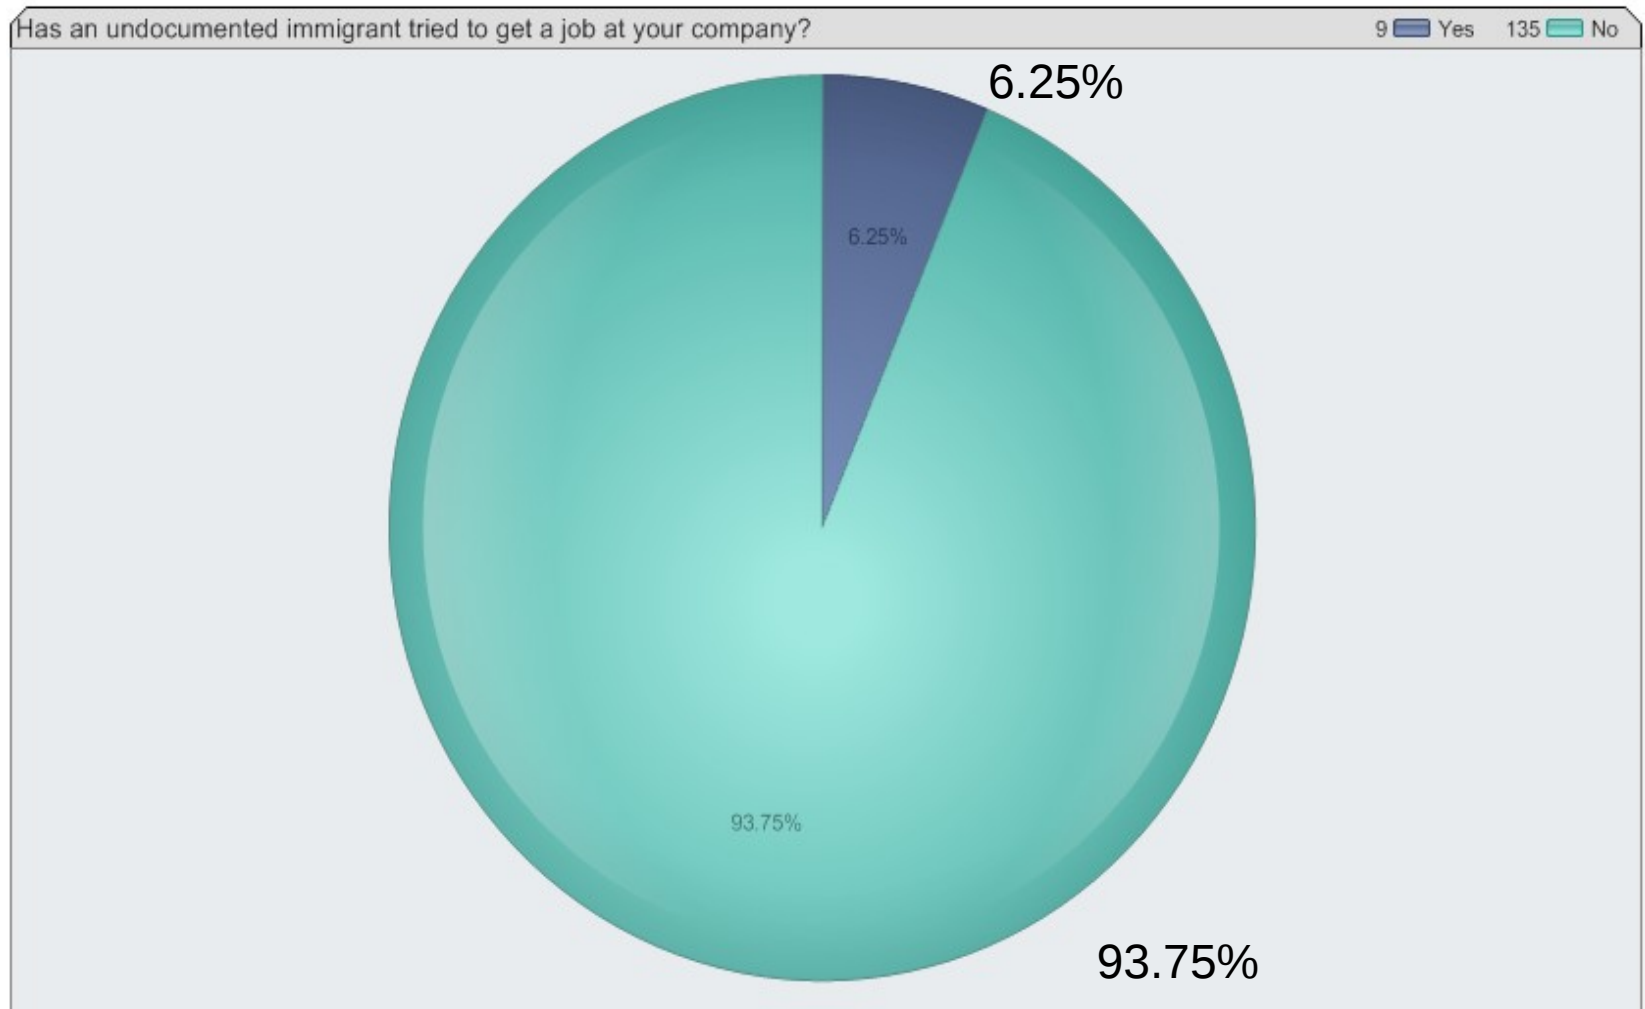

Should undocumented immigrants be able to get a driver's license?

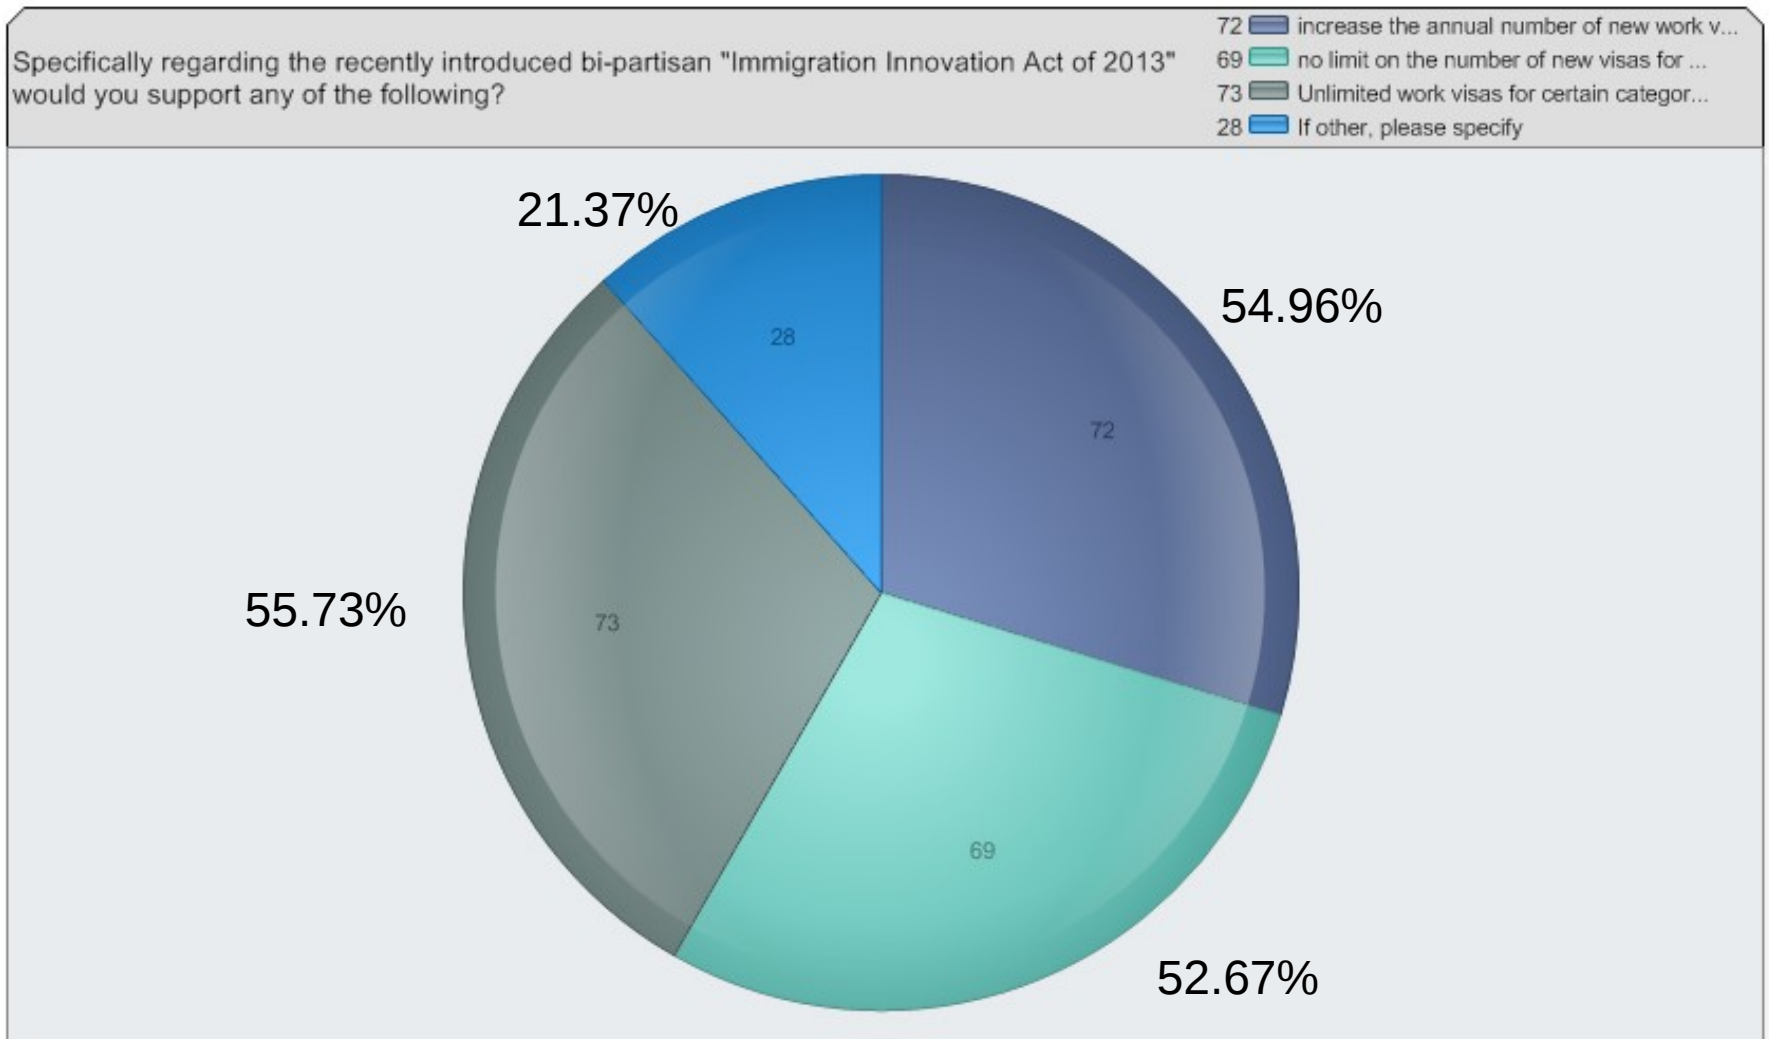

Do you think that undocumented immigrants perform jobs that Americans don't want to do?

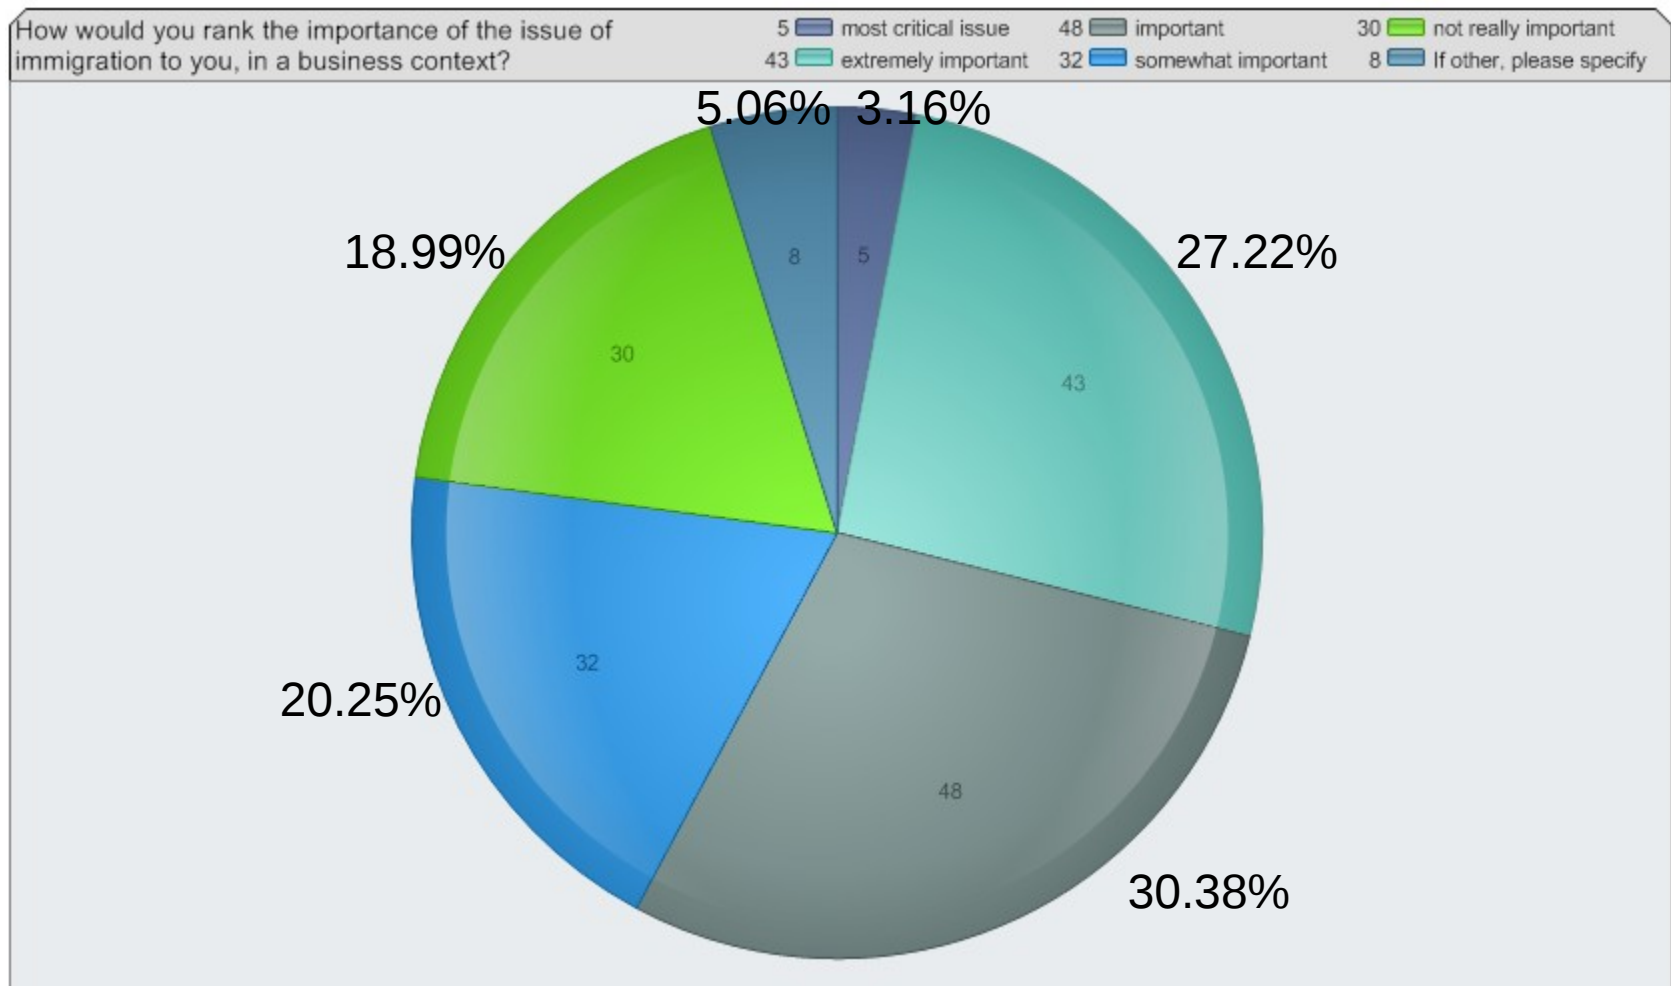

Has an undocumented immigrant tried to get a job at your company?

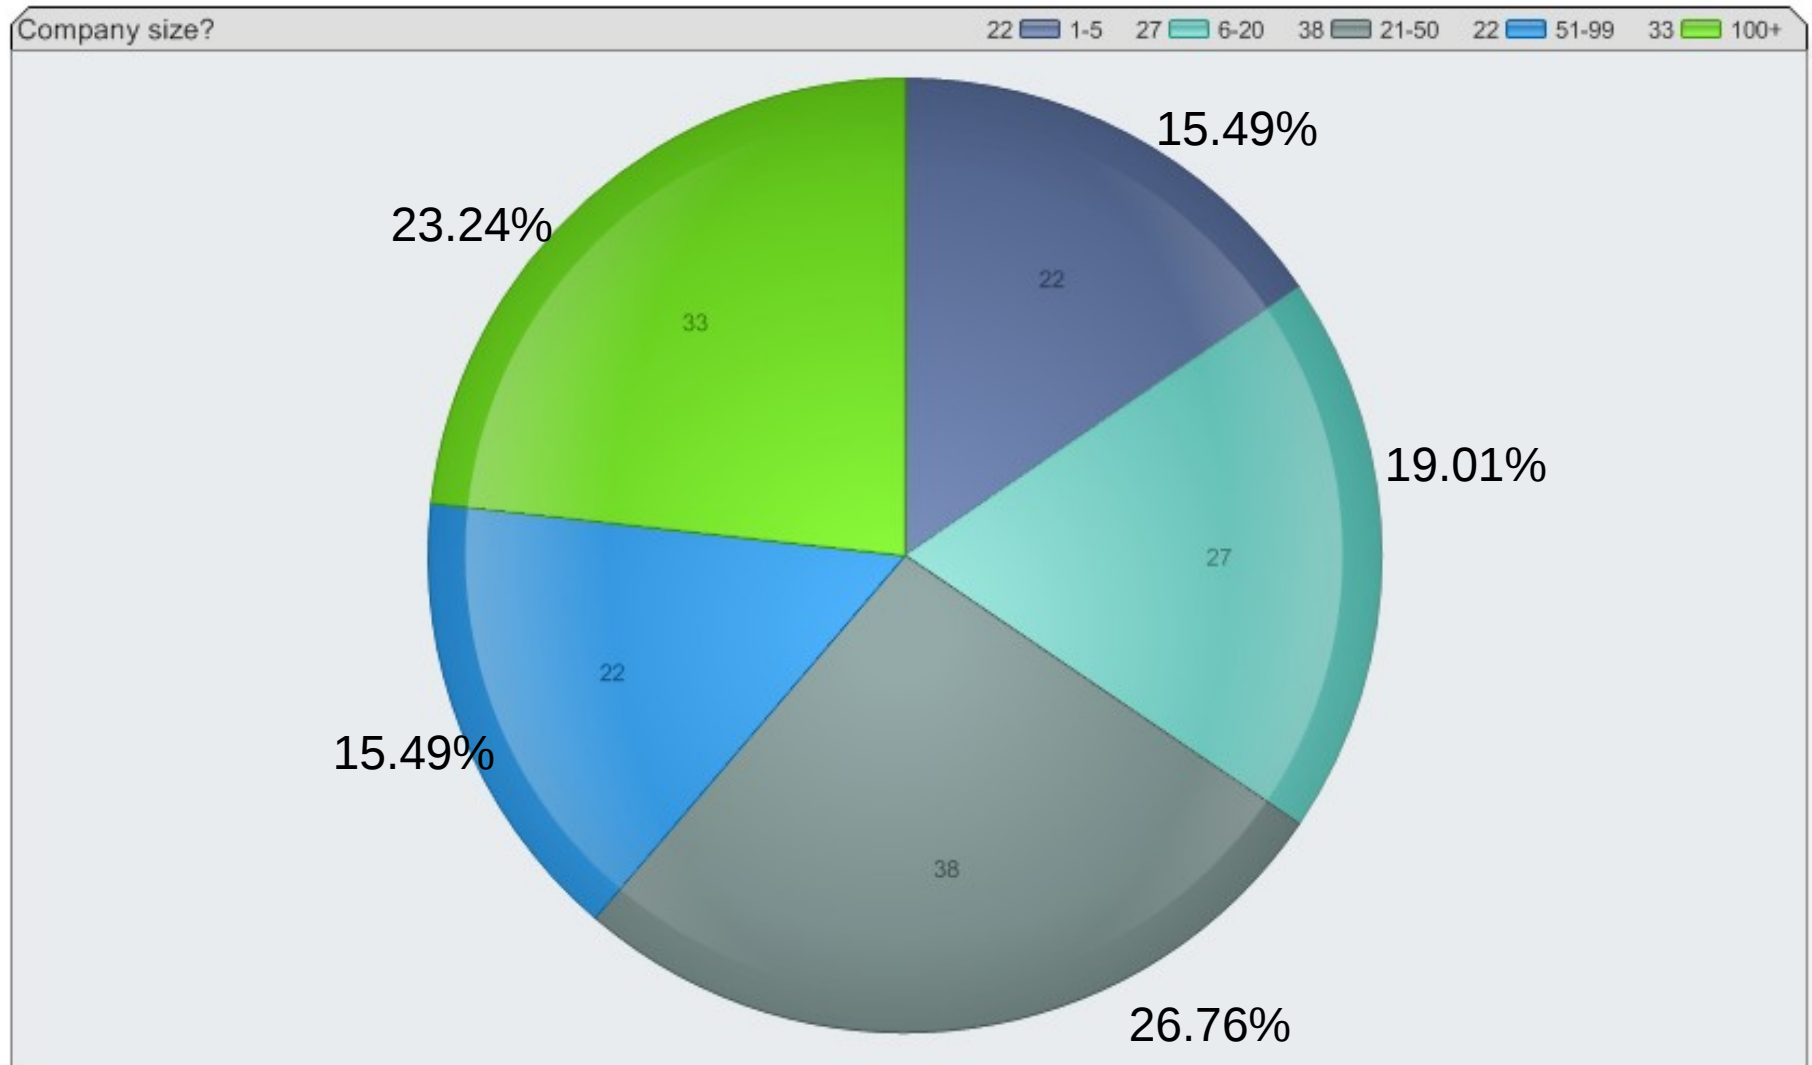

Specifically regarding the recently introduced bi-partisan "Immigration Innovation Act of 2013" would you support any of the following?

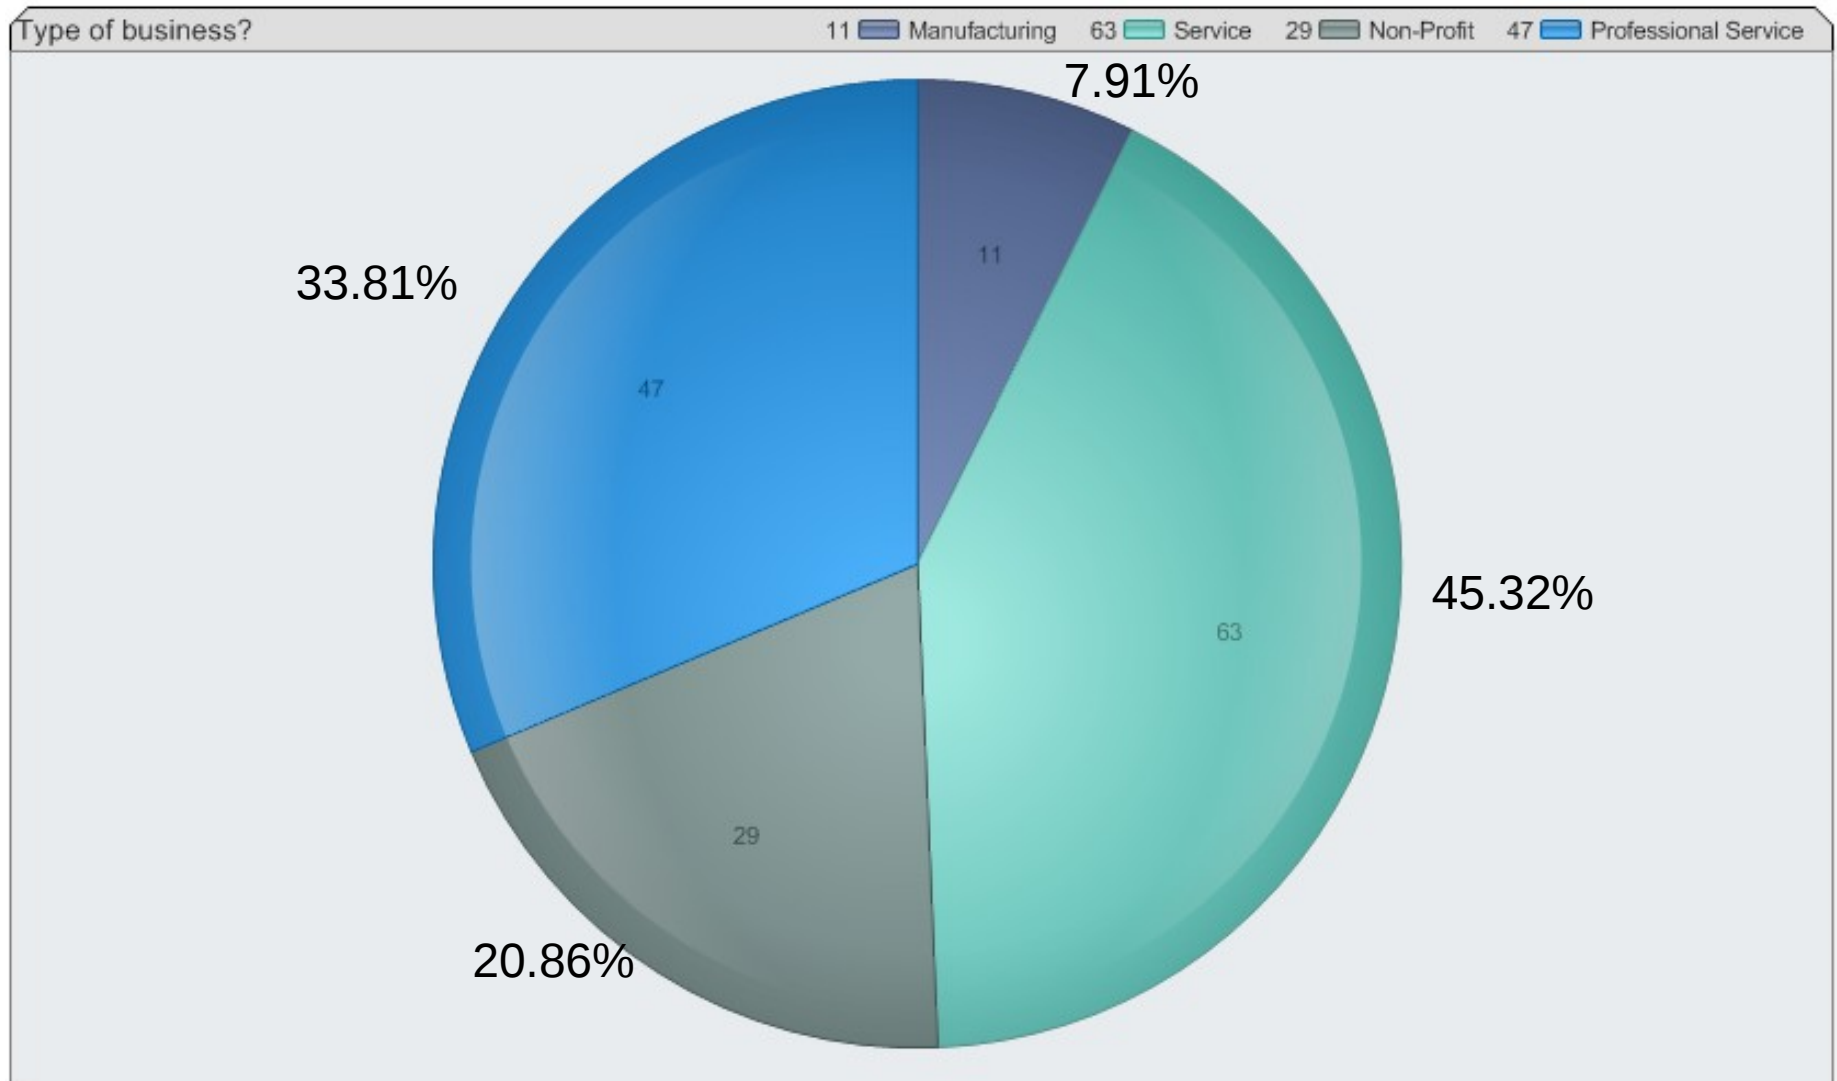

How would you rank the importance of the issue of immigration to you, in a business context?

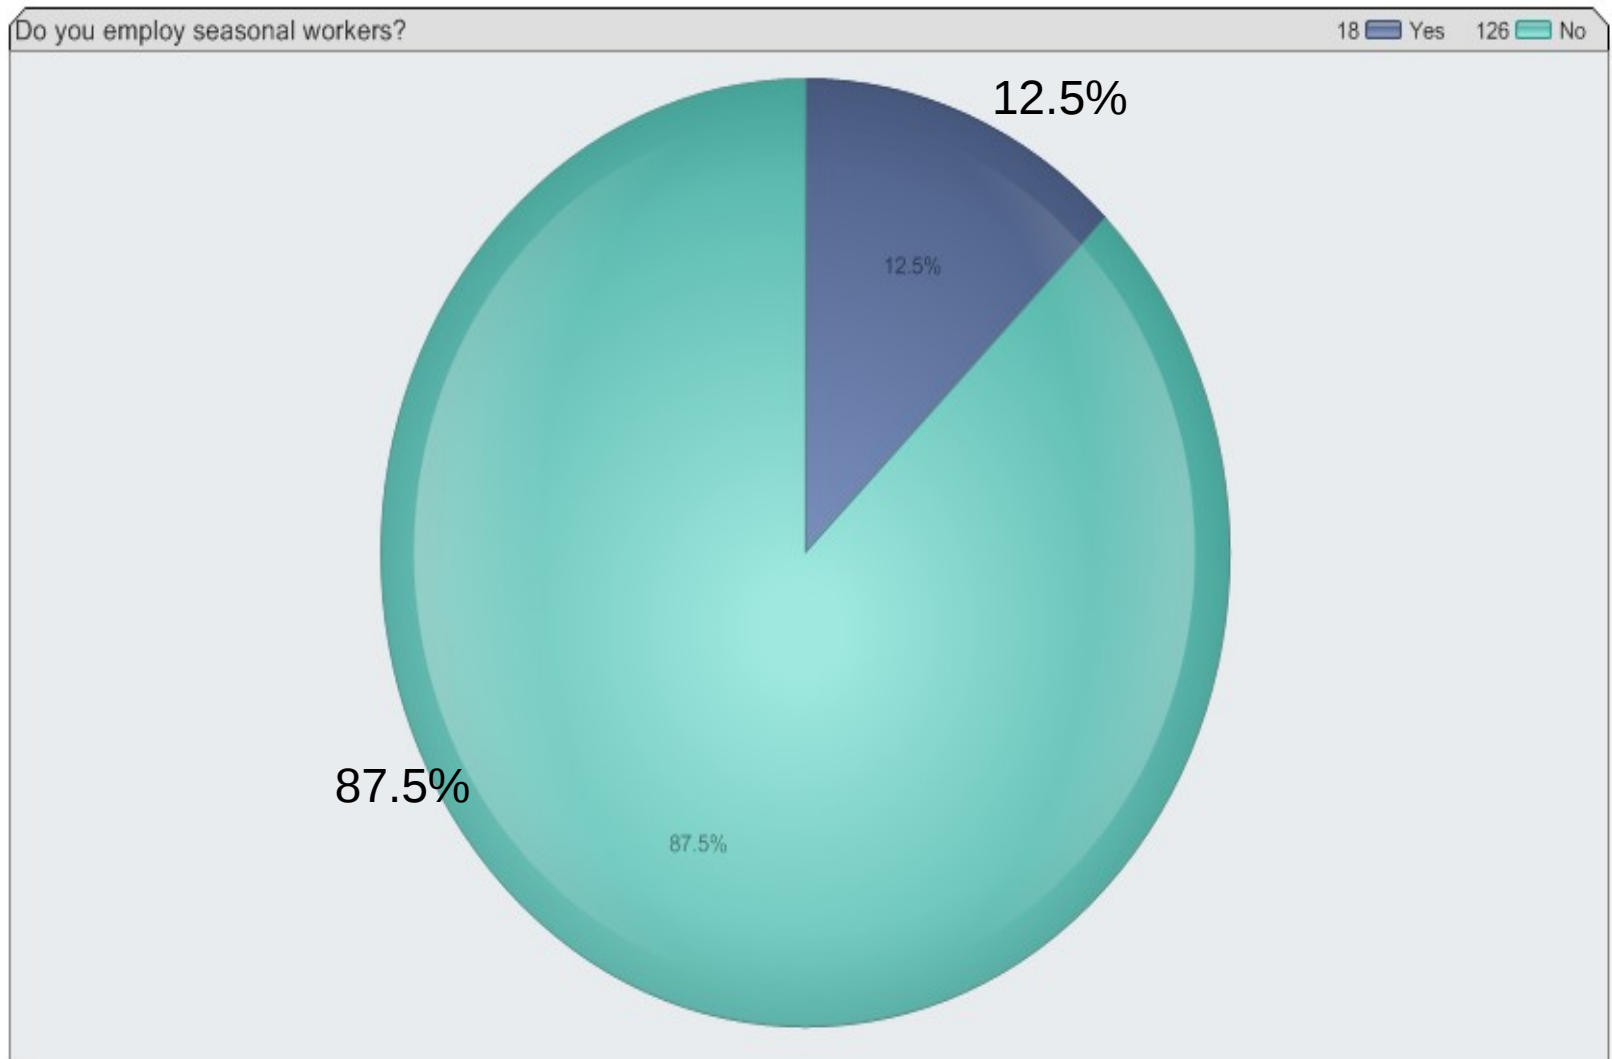

Company size?

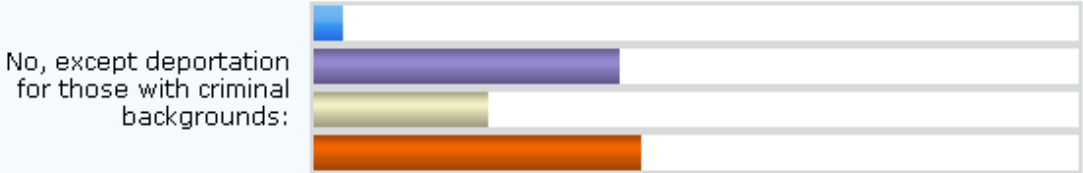

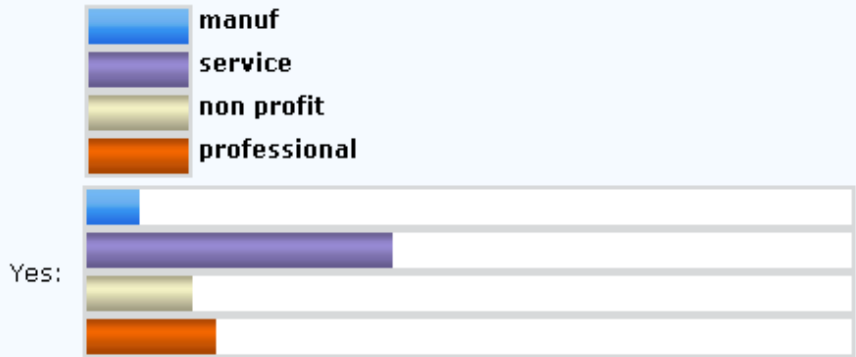

Type of business?

Do you employ seasonal workers?
